Q. Are there any fees applied when I pay online?

A. Yes, for debit or credit card payments there is a 2.5% NIC Services Admin fee of the total transaction cost plus a $1.00 NIC Services Admin fee. For checking or savings account transactions there is only an $1.00 fee. For example, when you pay $100, you will be billed $103.50 if you pay by debit or credit card and $101 if you pay by check.

Q. Is there a maximum limit I can pay online?

A. Yes, you can only pay for services that cost $1,000 or less.

Q. Can multiple items be purchased within one session?

A. Yes, multiple items can be added per session by clicking the “Add New Item” button at the bottom of your Transaction Items list.

Q. Can I pay using multiple payment options to cover one service or balance due or can I use only one form of payment at a time?

A. You must pay for the entire transaction using one payment method (credit card, debit card, or bank account (savings or checking)). You cannot use multiple payment options for the same transaction.

Q. What forms of payment are acceptable?

A. Credit cards, debit cards and ACH (which stands for Automate Clearing House (eCheck)) are acceptable forms of payment except for bond payments. For bond payments, only credit cards or debit cards are acceptable.

Q. What types of credit cards are accepted by the Payment Portal?

A. Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express are acceptable forms of credit card payments.

Q. Can I request a copy of my case?

A. During this time, the Court will only be charging for certified copies and large requests for copies in the Probate Division through this payment portal. To request a regular copy of your case, please contact the Division.

Q. What if I have a dispute about the cost or the amount due?

A. Please contact the court division at the phone numbers and email addresses provided above. By using this portal to make electronic payments, you agree that you will be responsible for any fees assessed against the D.C. Courts that result from a reversed payment or chargeback.

Q. Can the Courts accept credit card payments over the phone?

A. No, due to the Payment Card Industry (PCI) standards credit cards payments cannot be accepted over the phone.

Q. How will the charge appear on my credit or back statement?

A. Charges will appear as “DC Courts Online Payment.”
