

Rule 38-II. Failure to Appear for Trial as Consent to Trial Without Jury

Failure of a party to appear for trial, in person or through counsel, will be deemed by the court to constitute consent by that party to a trial without a jury.

COMMENT TO 2017 AMENDMENTS

Stylistic changes were made to this rule to conform with the 2007 amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.